

Research Fellow/Associate (Health Economist)

The Saw Swee Hock School of Public Health (SSHSPH) at the National University of Singapore (NUS) is recruiting a full-time Research Fellow or Research Associate with equivalent experience to support faculty members in conducting studies in the area of Health Economics.

Specific duties will include: economic evaluation of public health interventions (including cost-effectiveness and cost utility analyses); health technology assessment for improving the design and capacity of public health systems and health care systems.

The appointed candidate is expected to have at least a Master from an established University, preferably in economics, statistics, public health economics or equivalent.

For a Research Fellow position, the candidate should hold a PhD.

The ideal candidate should also demonstrate an ability to develop collaborative, multidisciplinary research and contribute to policy/community development in the field of public health.

The position is a 1-year contract in the first instance and will be extended if performance is good.

Applicants should send the following by email to Ms. Felicia Yue (ephyqjf@nus.edu.sg):

- 1) Cover note introducing themselves
- 2) Brief statement of interest matching their skills and competencies to the requirements of the post (no more than 1000 words)
- 3) A two page Curriculum Vitae, containing details of three named referees
- 4) A sample of published work (if any) that is relevant to the current vacancy
- 5) A complete NUS Personal Data Consent for Job Applicants (form is available here: NUS Personal Data Consent for Job Applicants)

Informal enquiries can be addressed to A/Prof Gerald Koh (ephkohch@nus.edu.sg).

Interviews will be either face to face for local candidates or by video link for those who are based abroad.
